

SOUVENIR OF

MIAMI

MIAMI BEACH

AND

CORAL GABLES

FLORIDA

Miami, Miami Beach, and Coral Gables, Florida

Miami's blue skies are reflected in the beauty of far-flung ocean and bay; through the witchery of cool moonlit nights, where the tropical breeze whispers in the palm fronds. Drink of the golden juice of the orange, fresh plucked from the heavy laden bough, and of the fragrant milk of the coconut just fallen from its high perch—and you will have quaffed of the real fountain of youth.

Sunlight, salt air, relaxing surroundings, fresh fruits and vegetables all winter. Boulevards, palm fringed and parked with hibiscus, oleander, crotons, bougainvillea, banana plants, orange and grapefruit trees, tall palms bending under the weight of great clusters of coconuts, bamboo, pandanus, bignonia, and other growing things that are seen nowhere else in the United States, present a riot of color and interest. The entire gamut of the palm family, the Coconut Palm, the Royal Palm, the Travelers' Palm, the Washingtonian Palm, the Palmetto Palm, Apron Palm, is spread in prodigious quantity over the curbs and parkways of Biscayne Boulevard.

Christmas Day sees the vast beaches as crowded as the Fourth of July. The golf links are the scene of closely contested matches. Polo games, Horse Races, Baseball, Horseback Riding through tropical trails, Boating, Canoeing, Tennis and eleven sporty golf courses, will keep anyone busy.

Miami's 17 parks offer coolly inviting spots for lounging, especially the new 65-acre Bayfront park. From its conveniently placed benches under the palm trees, one may gaze across Biscayne Bay, where palatial yachts float like great white sea gulls resting on the water, to the Atlantic Ocean. Bayfront park, where daily free concerts are given, is famed as a show-place of tropical landscaping.

Night clubs abound amid tropical settings and splendor.

Miami is equipped with the most modern and extensive aviation facilities, including three landing fields, and a seaplane base, comparable in size to the dockage space in New York, headquarters for the famous Curtiss Aviation School at Hialeah, has ample hangar space and repair facilities for every type of plane.

Just a night's sail away is Bimini and, but a bit farther, is ancient Nassau, both British Isles, which furnish their lure in adventure and change of scene. Cuba, too, is only a night's ride on luxurious liners.

There are, just a few miles' drive from the city's center, estates that excel, in riotous color and magnificence of landscaping and area, some of the historic castles of overseas.

Fishing boats ply every day out to the Gulf Stream with amateur Izaak Waltons. There is nothing tame about battling with the large denizens of these sub-tropical waters, and in the excitement of bringing in that elusive, finny rascal that is trying to get away with a good hook, line and sinker, minor troubles are apt to disappear. Imagine the glee of landing a game sailfish after a thrilling battle, or catching a bonita or any one of the strange fish that inhabit the Gulf Stream, about 3½ miles off shore.

Miami Beach, a separate municipality across Biscayne Bay from the city of Miami, is directly on the Atlantic Ocean. It is connected with the mainland by three causeways which have their terminus in the northern, central and southern sections of the city.

A delightfully attractive suburb of Miami is Coral Gables, where imposing Spanish entrances and homes with lavish floral adornment convey the atmosphere of old Spain.
